

Junior Analyst / Developer

Flexible work environment - Competitive compensation - Training – Benefits

The Vendere Group, a growing software engineering company, is looking for new talents!

Thanks to our extensive expertise in optimization and automation of sales processes, customer relationship management and information technology, our company helps SMEs, through a series of solutions and products, to improve their overall profitability and meet the needs and challenges of today. Our values of collaboration, customer satisfaction, integrity and respect allow us to provide a unique customer experience and provide a stimulating work environment.

Are you devoted, eager for challenges and would like to participate in the success of diverse and exciting projects? The Junior Analyst / Developer position is for you!

Your job :

Under the direction of the systems architect, the junior analyst / developer will oversee the deployment and integration of innovative sales and service solutions intended for SMEs.

Your tasks and responsibilities:

- Analyze, develop, test and document software components: database, web services, DLLs, executables, iOS and Android mobile applications as well as Dynamics CRM.
- Analyze, maintain, restructure and improve existing code components.
- Investigate and resolve application and technical issues.
- Install, configure and customize MS Azure, MS PowerApps and Dynamics CRM components.

Your profile:

- You have or will soon complete an ACS, college diploma or university degree in computer sciences.
- You are currently on an internship, have completed an internship or are at the start of your career.
- You know one of the following programming languages: C #, Java or Swift.
- You are interested in deepening your knowledge with iOS and Android web application development, integration with social networks, configuration of Microsoft Azure components, development of REST web services, implementation and maintenance SQL database and the deployment of Microsoft Dynamics CRM and PowerApps solutions.
- You are bilingual, dynamic and a fast learner.

Our offer:

- A flexible work environment combining periods of teleworking and days at our offices in downtown Montreal. Note that in the current context of a pandemic, we are working entirely remotely.
- Compensation commensurate with your talent and attractive benefits.
- A growing company with opportunities for advancement.
- A young stimulating team focused on the values of respect and mutual aid.
- The Vendere Group is responsible for training you on the various technologies used. A perfect opportunity for you to increase your experience on cutting edge technologies.

Do you think you have what it takes to join the ranks of our team?

Share your CV with us: rh@vendere.ca.

<http://www.vendere.ca>